

TAXI MEN WILL FIGHT POLICE

Deny Right of City to Regulate Parking Upon Streets.

TEST CASE IN COURT

City Attorney Plans to Force Drivers to Observe New Regulations.

A firm stand has been taken by taxi drivers of Tulsa against the newly created ordinance prohibiting parking in the congested downtown district. A test case will be tried in municipal court at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Practically every taxi company, together with individual taxi owners, have joined forces to resist enforcement of the new regulation. An attorney has been retained, and he served notice upon Chief of Police Gustafson yesterday that the new city law would be fought to the last ditch.

The taxi drivers' attorney has advised his clients not to furnish bond in case of arrest for violation of the ordinance, and he declared that habeas corpus proceedings will be instituted immediately to thwart the efforts of the police in overcoming the badly crowded traffic conditions in the business district.

The contention is made that the city officials have no power to regulate parking of taxicabs. "If the proprietor of a place of business gives permission to park in the street adjacent to his establishment, the police have no authority to interfere according to the taxi men's attorney.

"The streets and sidewalks are public property and come under supervision of the city administration," declared A. C. Sinclair, assistant city attorney.

Section 1415 of the city ordinances, which regulates taxicabs and public vehicles, provides that proprietors and drivers of all cars, taxicabs, and other vehicles used in the transportation of passengers or freight for hire shall in the choice and use of stands upon the streets of the city of Tulsa, be controlled by the direction of the chief of police, and no such vehicle shall make a stand in front of any place of business without the consent of the owner of said business."

BETTER COOKS FOR HOMES

Community Kitchen Will be Opened to Teach Tulsa Women.

All women interested in Tulsa's community kitchen are invited to Mrs. Lillian D. Lindsay to attend a meeting of the home efficiency club at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Carnegie library, when the manner of furnishing the kitchen and the opening date will be decided. The kitchen will be in charge of Mrs. Sada Grummert, county home demonstrator. "We hope to make the kitchen of 'The Woman' the 'Woman,'" Mrs. Lindsay said yesterday. "Though housekeeping is woman's business, too many women are not skilled in it. Classes in cooking and canning to be given at the community kitchen will be helpful both to young married women as yet unversed in culinary matters and to matrons of a number of years standing."

"MY BLOOD WAS VERY POOR"

"But PEPSINOL Took Away All the Pimples and Gave Me a Pretty Skin."

It was some time after I began to suffer from indigestion, sour stomach and biliousness before I realized these troubles were affecting my health. I began to break out with pimples. My skin got sallow and harsh. After I tried a number of preparations without results a friend told me how Pepsinol purified her blood and I tried a bottle.

Before the end of the first bottle I felt and saw an improvement. I began to enjoy my meals, my stomach was sweet and my pimples began to disappear. Within a few weeks they were all gone and my skin was pretty, clear and healthy."
